Snapshot of Answir Inc.

What is Answir?

Answir is an AI-powered investor relations intelligence platform that helps public companies respond to investor questions 24/7 using verified corporate information.

The platform transforms company regulatory filings, market data, website content, and other approved disclosures or sources into clear, compliant, investor-friendly responses.

Answir helps companies:

- ✓ Improve investor engagement
- ✓ Reduce repetitive IR inquiries
- ✓ Capture valuable investor intelligence
- ✓ Identify trends and information gaps
- ✓ Scale communications without increasing headcount
- ✓ Generate measurable ROI from investor relations activities

Why It Matters

Research has shown that companies with stronger investor relations practices can benefit from:

- Higher market valuations
- Lower costs of capital
- Improved investor confidence
- Better access to capital markets

Despite this, organizations spend dramatically more on customer intelligence and employee intelligence than on investor intelligence.

Answir was created to help close that gap.

What Makes Answir Different?

- ✓ Built specifically for investor relations and capital markets
- ✓ Uses verified corporate information as its source of truth
- ✓ Provides 24/7 investor engagement
- ✓ Supports scalable investor communications without increasing headcount
- ✓ Identifies information gaps and emerging trends
- ✓ Reduces repetitive inquiries directed to management
- ✓ Designed with compliance, transparency, and accuracy in mind

Who It's For

Public Companies

Emerging, growth stage and enterprise-level issuers.

Private Companies

Venture-backed, pre-IPO, large private enterprises

Primary Users

Retail and institutional investors, brokers, lenders, sell-side analysts, journalists, regulators, company employees and more.

The Problem

Investors want immediate, clear and factual responses to their questions, yet most public companies:

- Cannot provide 24/7 investor support
- Would rather focus on higher-value IR tasks
- Leave investors to do their due diligence in rumour mills
- Have limited visibility into investor sentiment and information gaps
- Leave potential valuation upside on the table through suboptimal investor engagement

Nick Kuzyk, MBA

Founder, CEO & Director

Nick Kuzyk is an investor relations and capital markets professional with almost 25 years of experience in the corporate setting, while advising public companies across North America. Prior to founding Answir, he built and operated Meadowbank Strategic Partners Inc., an investor relations and strategic communications firm serving publicly traded companies. After years of witnessing the growing demand for better investor communications, Nick founded Answir to modernize investor engagement through artificial intelligence.

About Answir

Answir Inc. is a Calgary-based artificial intelligence company developing an AI-powered investor relations intelligence platform for public companies. The company's technology transforms regulatory filings, stock data, web content, and other corporate disclosures into secure AI assistants that provide investors with instant access to trusted company information. By combining conversational AI, investor engagement analytics and seamless AI-to-human escalation, Answir helps organizations improve investor communications, reduce repetitive Investor Relations workload and better understand the evolving information needs of the investing public.

How Answir Works

answir™

Answir is an AI-powered investor relations intelligence platform that enables public companies to provide instant, accurate and authorized answers to investor questions while generating valuable intelligence about investor engagement.

The Process

Platform Highlights

- ✓ AI-powered conversational interface
- ✓ Company-specific knowledge bases
- ✓ Secure customer data isolation
- ✓ Multi-language capabilities
- ✓ Investor engagement analytics
- ✓ Designed specifically for Investor Relations and capital markets
- ✓ Source-grounded responses
- ✓ Continuous knowledge updates
- ✓ Mobile and desktop friendly
- ✓ Conversation and sentiment insights
- ✓ Usage dashboards
- ✓ AI-to-human handoff via live chat or callback requests

What Answir Securely Indexes

Answir securely indexes company-authorized information, including:

- Regulatory filings
- Investor presentations
- Financial statements
- News releases
- Management Discussion & Analysis (MD&A)
- Website content
- Annual reports
- Share/stock data
- Quarterly reports
- Other company-authorized materials

Human Support When Needed

Unlike traditional AI chatbots that represent the end of the conversation, Answir is designed to complement—not replace—Investor Relations professionals.

Whenever additional assistance is required, investors can request a live conversation with the company's Investor Relations team through an integrated live chat or callback request.

This hybrid approach allows AI to efficiently handle routine investor inquiries while ensuring that complex, relationship-driven or time-sensitive discussions receive personal attention from experienced Investor Relations professionals.
